

Contractor Review

Tom Harris PUR Consulting

Bob Gasca Jr., co-owner of South Chicago Insulation, LLC was looking for spray foam education, support and tools to help minimize risk in the business.

To grow with confidence.

How has Tom Harris PUR Consulting contributed to your success?

Bob says, "I've been active in the SPF industry for around 20 years and I have learned so much in the last year knowing Tom through our conversations. His knowledge of building science has taught me so much that I can pass onto my clients, giving them peace of mind knowing they hired the right guy to make sure the job is done right".

What's the biggest benefit of a relationship with Tom Harris PUR Consulting?

"Tom always answers the phone or calls back quickly. He has worked tirelessly to get my HAM Models finished in a timely manner so my potential clients are not waiting around for a week for an estimate."

How has Tom Harris Consulting helped you close more business?

"Tom's HAM Models have helped close more business by providing my potential clients with more knowledge to show them I am the right person for their job. These models provide real data showing the potential for future problems."

Would you recommend Tom Harris PUR Consulting to others in the industry?

"Absolutely. I've recommended him on multiple online forums and will continue to do so because of the knowledge he has. Tom and I have multiple 30-minute + conversations on building science and he is never in a rush to hang up with me. He's very passionate about the subject and it's obvious he loves to teach others about building science and make the SPF industry a better place."